	later identified as . It was difficult to wake and he seemed very confused and disoriented. was found to be intoxicated and taken into custody (11-13485). I attempted to wake the passenger who was later identified as . It took several attempts to wake the subject, and eventually I used a sternal rub to awaken him. Once he opened his eyes, began to reach into his pockets and then began to reach around the car. He attempted to reach under the seat and I removed him from the vehicle. Based on his movements I conducted a pat down for weapons. In his right front pants pocket I felt an item that was similar to a plant like substance. Based on my training and experience I believed this item to be marijuana. When I removed the item, I found a clear plastic baggie containing a green leafy substance. The substance later tested positive for THC using a 908 test kit with a field weight of 7 grams. It was apparent that was also intoxicated by the strong odor of alcoholic beverages coming from his breath, slurred speech, and poor balance. He was released from the scene, and issued a summons for 10/11/2011 at 0830 Enter into evidence: Clear plastic baggie containing a green leafy substance. The substance was located in offenders left front pants pocket. It tested positive for THC using a 908 test kit with a field weight of 7 grams.

Domestic [am]	Reported: 07/07/2011. The victim and the suspect have been dating for several years and have been living together at Taylor. The victim told police that the suspect began to yell at her for popping pop corn instead of feeding him something for dinner. The victim said that she attempted to leave so that the suspect could calm down, but he refused to leave her alone. The victim said that the suspect followed her out to the car and continued to argue with her and scream at her. The victim then got into a car with the witness and the suspect walked away. The witness and the victim attempted to start the vehicle, but the battery was dead. While a friend attempted to jump start the car, the suspect returned, ran toward the vehicle's passenger side window, and threw a thermos filled with water at the victim. The suspect then dove into the passenger side window (on top of the victim) and began punching and slapping her. The witness and the suspect's uncle had to physically pull the suspect off of the victim as he continued to punch and slap her. The victim then called for the police and the suspect fled. The victim sustained several contusions and small lacerations on her head, face, and arms from the attack and insisted on filing charges. The victim refused AMR and was given a case number and instructions on how to proceed.

Reported: 07/07/2011. The fire department was dispatched in reference to a truck on fire. Sgt. Motz and I (Ward) heard the dispatch and arrived at the same time as the fire department. Upon arrival we located a large moving truck (V1) on fire, with the cargo area fully involved. This property belongs to V1, and there were several moving trucks parked directly behind the address. One of the trucks was a UHAUL truck (V2) that was parked approximately 2 feet from V1. The fire had extended from V1 to the cargo area of V2. The fire department was able to contain the fire to the cargo area of both vehicles. After extinguishing the fire, firefighters located a large amount of trash, cigarette butts, a mattress, and other evidence that indicated homeless subjects may have been using truck for shelter. When I spoke to the caller she stated that homeless subjects do in fact use the truck as shelter on a regular basis. The caller (RP1) stated that her son (RP2) went outside and observed the flames behind the building. He immediately notified his mother who called 911. Both RP's stated that they had not seen anyone in the area before the fire was noticed.		WARD, M. R.
LW 1113482 Theft Other 50-200 [df]	It appeared that V1 had not been moved in some time, and the RP stated that the business typically stores trash inside of it. We were not able to make contact with the owner of the business. The damage to V1 was extensive, and the damage to V2 was isolated to the cargo area. The fire investigator was given the case number. John, Sarah Elizabeth (W F, 21) VICTIM of Theft Other 50-200 [df] (C), at Harlan Ave, Evansville, IN, between 03:30, 07/07/2011 and 03:35, 07/07/2011. The suspect came in and started arguing with friend over a man they are both romantically interested in. Although had no reason to get involved she took offense to the things said about her friend, so she followed the suspect out of the apartment and down the 2nd floor hallway to the rear exit. engaged the suspect in an argument there when two men stepped in and told them to take it outside, because residents at the apartment were trying to sleep. The two females stepped out on the rear stair landing which is constructed of wood decking lumber. A fight ensued and fell part of the way down the stairs. got a small deep cut from the wood railing while tumbling down the stairs. After being injured, s went to the front of the apartments and called for an ambulance. Police arrived a few minutes later and she was gone. Another call came in from Parrett apartment 1, saying there was a female there that fell down some stairs and needed an ambulance. walked there to her apartment and was smoking a cigarette when Police arrived. old us what happened but said she did not want to press charges. She admitted she was the instigator and that she should have just let the suspect leave without following her. She said she was pregnant but seemed unsure how far along she was. said she was never knocked unconscious and her head only hurt a little. She indicated she was going to get revenge on the suspect. is listed as in RMS, but say her last name is now only knew the suspect by first name and said she had never really known her before. went with AMR to St. Mary's to get checked out. was given a case number and advised how to follow up if she changes her mind about pressing charges. Russell-pope, Dakota Robert (W M, 18) VICTIM of Battery-hff Domestic [am] (C), at √ Delaware St, Evansville, IN, between 01:00, 07/08/2011 and 01:10, 07/08/2011. Before dispatch could get any further information, they could hear another male stating, "what`s up" and the phone went dead. Dispatch attempted to call the caller back without any luck. While Officer A. Carlile and myself (N.Winsett) were enroute to the extra patrol, a motor vehicle accident was dispatched to Adams and Bedford. We decided to stop by the accident while enroute to the extra patrol. After arriving on scene, we saw a dark colored Chevy Impala four door vehicle with a black male driver passed out at the wheel and covered in blood. The vehicle had struck a parked truck and there was minimal damage done to both vehicles. After checking the driver of the vehicle (victim), we could tell he had some deep cuts on his throat and his left arm. It appears he did not sustain these injuries from the motor vehicle accident. The license plate on the Chevy Impala matched the plate (BN 8443) on the extra patrol that we were given moments earlier. It seems this was the vehicle that the original caller was following when the line disconnected. The victim was transported to St. Marys Hospital by A.M.R. (truck # 1538). While enroute to the hospital, the victim became combative and had to be physically restrained by myself. Once at the hospital he started passing out again due to blood loss. Detective K. Whitler was called to St. Mary`s Hospital to speak with the victim. After he came back around, he told Det. Whitler that a tall, white, young, male attacked him with a knife. Det. Whitler advised the victim was not real forthcoming with information at this time. Because he was being prepped for emergency surgery, no more information could be obtained about the suspect at this time. Dispatch advised the original caller on the extra patrol did not give his name or his vehicle information. They do however, have a cell phone number from the caller. The victim`s vehicle was towed to the crime scene garage by Officer A. Fair and Officer K.
