The witness stated this is when they called for the police. I spoke with the offender who prior to being questioned stated she had walked out with the bra, shoes and jacket but denied pulling tags off clearance items and sticking on the other clothing items. The witness took the regular price and subtracted the clearance price that the offender had paid and came up with a total of 90.15 in stolen merchandise. A P.B.T was used on scene for the suspect and he had a field B.A.C of .10. I then I informed the suspect to step into our squad at which time he stopped halfway and wouldn't sit down. I told him three times to have a seat and he never did, but kept stating he wanted to know what was going to be done with his vehicle. I then placed a hand on his chest area and applying some pressure, I told him to have a seat once more. He pushed against me and continued to state he wanted to know about his vehicle. I then had to use two hands to force the suspect into the vehicle and seat belt him in. As I was doing so he stated "Fuck You." Once inside the car I read the suspect his Implied Consent and he stated that he would take the chemical test. The suspect was then transported to V.C.C.C to take the chemical test, for Public Intoxication and Resisting Law Enforcement.	KARGES, M. T.
