	spoke with Carolyn who informed me that she noticed purchases had been made on her Apple account and funds, in the amount of $184.93, had been deducted from her checking account. Carolyn stated she looked up a number for Apple support on the internet and made contact with a subject. This subject identified himself as an Apple employee and proceeded to tell Carolyn that her account had been hacked. The subject stated that there were multiple hackers from both inside and outside of the United States. The subject stated he could block the hackers from inside the U.S. but that he would not be able to do it from the ones in Mexico, Cuba, and the Bahamas. The subject told Carolyn that in order to block the hackers from out of the Country it would cost 50 dollars for each of these countries. The subject stated she would need to purchase 3 Google cards totally $150 dollars and that he would need the card numbers once she got them. Carolyn stated she did go and purchase the cards at a local Walgreens and gave the subject the information on the back. Carolyn stated she became suspicious but that the subject assured her that she would be reimbursed. As Carolyn continued to speak with the subject she stated he was alerted to two more hackers in Canada. He advised Carolyn that she would need to go and purchase 2 more Google cards, which she reluctantly did, so that these hackers could also be blocked. Carolyn stated the longer the two continued to talk the more money this subject tried to get out of her. Carolyn told the subject that she could not afford to spend any more money until she saw that her account had been credited the $250 she had spent on Google cards. The subject told her that it could take up to 48 hours and that he would call her back. Carolyn stated she has since taken the proper steps to secure her accounts.
