I made contact with the Reporting Party, identified as Christopher Weiss.

Christopher stated he dropped off his child for a custody exchange, at the post office located at Downtown Sycamore today, next to the Civic Center today. Christopher stated his ex's current boyfriend's stepdad, had been on scene threatening him. Christopher explained after he left the scene of the child exchange, The step dad followed him in a black truck. Christopher stated the step dad then stopped him in the middle of the road, on Division St, by pulling his truck in front of his vehicle. The step dad got out of the vehicle and told Christopher to get out, and to fight. Christopher left the scene and he had contacted dispatch, during the incident. There was no physical altercation.

Christopher's girlfriend, identified as Quintil Ashby, was in the vehicle with Christopher, during the incident. Quintil had recorded the incident on a cell phone camera, which had showed the step dad trying to provoke Christopher to fight, in the middle of the roadway. I was unable identify the step dad who had provoked the incident: An officer had ran the plate of the vehicle driven by the step dad, which I included the return information in the vehicle field. Christopher requested a report be made to document the incident.

Officers met with loss prevention of a local retail store. I white male stole merchandise and then left in a vehicle.
