Karges and the OF have children together. They have recently gotten divorced and M. Karges has a protective order against the OF. They have been to court and have their child exchange outlined through the courts. It is very specific in what days who has the children and who picks them up. M. Karges has primary custody of the children. On days that M. Karges is off, they default back to parenting time guidelines, where she has the children every day, and on Thursday's and every other weekend, the OF gets the children. Today [Monday], M. Karges was off work. She went to pick one of her daughters up from school. When she arrived there, she was advised that the OF had already picked her up. She then went to get her other daughter from the other school and the OF had picked her up as well, which violates the child custody agreement. Since she is off, M. Karges is to have custody of the children today. She stated she then contacted the OF and he agreed to meet her at McDonald's on First Ave. She arrived there and after 20 minutes without him showing up, she contacted him again. He told her, "I've been weighing my options, and I'm going to keep the girls." He then ceased contact with her. This was around 1720-1730 hundred hours.  She had called 911 and spoke with the dispatcher and advised what was going on. I arrived on scene around 1830 hundred hours due to other priority runs coming out. She stated she continued trying to contact him and he still wouldn't answer. I then asked if she was in fear for her children's safety. She advised that she was not really sure what he would do, and advised that he has PTSD and is unsure what he is capable of. She stated he has been very erratic lately. She was visibly upset and said she was scared for her girls.  I contacted Sgt. McQuay and advised him of the situation. Due to M. Karges not knowing where the OF is at this time, a report was taken. She was advised to continue trying to contact him about the children and try to locate them. I told her if she locates them to call back so that we could attempt to get the children back. She was also given information for the Parenting Time Center.		SEBORIS, S. N.
