Jack Clark

RE: City-County Observer

Dear Mr. Clark:

Please be advised that the undersigned represents the City-County Observer. It has come to my attention that you contacted at least one (1) advertiser and encouraged that person to cancel his business relationship with the City-County Observer. This communication is intended to advise you that you must immediately cease and desist in all such communications with advertisers in the City-County Observer, and, further, to warn you that any other attempts to interfere with business relationships will be met with legal action.

Amongst other things, your actions constitute Tortious Interference with a Business Relationship and Tortious Interference with a Contractual Relationship. I reviewed the correspondence you tendered to an advertiser with the City-County Observer. In your communication you admit your knowledge of the existing contractual relationship between the advertiser and the City-County Observer. Typically, knowledge of this contractual relationship is a difficult element to prove. Yet, your admission in your correspondence provides actionable legal information. I appreciate your candor.

Should there be any further attempts to interfere with business or contractual relationships, swift legal action will be taken and all damages and sanctions available will be sought against you.

Thank you for your immediate cooperation.

Very Truly Yours,

MASSEY LAW OFFICES, LLC
