	Grams [am]	match up. Officers decided to get the two occupants out of the vehicle to question them further. I got the female driver (IO) out of the vehicle. After I finished questioning the IO, I asked the OF to exit the vehicle. I noticed that he smelled strongly of what I believed through my training and experience to be synthetic cannabinoids coming from his person. I asked the OF if he had anything illegal on his person. He advised me that he did not. I asked him if I could search his person and he consented to the search. I searched his person initially, but forgot to search his socks. The OF stated that he had money in one of his socks and retrieved it out of his right sock. Detective Gray asked him if he had anything illegal on his person we had not found and he would not respond. I then picked up his left ankle and noticed a large bulge in his left sock. I pulled out three clear plastic baggies containing 6 grams of a green leafy substance testing positive for synthetic cannabinoids. The OF was cited and released.
