Reported: 01/23/2017. Officer T. Merriss and I, Officer S. Brown, were dispatched to the Neighborhood Wal-Mart in reference to a shoplifting female who left the scene prior to our arrival. We met with loss prevention employee, Jason Dugger, who advised a white female came into the store and was carrying a very large, and empty, burgandy purse. She began selecting items at an extremely fast pace, which made Dugger suspicious of her. At that time, he observed her select pink rollers and several headbands in the health and beauty aisle. Dugger continued her observation of the female when he watched her conceal those items inside her large purse. After he followed her around the store, she proceeded to the cash register. The female paid for several items; however, she never retrieved the items he observed her conceal from inside her purse. After she completed her transaction, she walked out the front doors. Dugger approached her at that time, asking her to come back into the store with him. The female complied and returned several food items that were contained inside her purse, but kept stating she didn't have any other items. Dugger said the woman told him that she was hungry and that she returned everything she stole. She never produced the items from the health and beauty aisle, but kept stating "that's everything." At that time, he asked her to return to the loss prevention office; however, she refused to accompany him and left the store. He then witnessed her leaving the lot and entering the Arbors Apartment Complex.		MERRISS, T. L.
