	Stonehedge where she resides. The victim has been in a relationship with the offender and had allowed him to stay there throughout the previous day and overnight. Victim states that upon returning home from work over night discovered her boyfriend, the offender, had ransacked the apartment and was sleeping on the living room couch. The victim woke up the offender and a verbal argument ensued that quickly led to a physical confrontation. The victim states that the offender grabbed her from behind around the neck forcing her to the floor where he sat on her abdomen in an attempt to begin punching her in the face. The victim resisted by throwing the offender off of her before the offender could start delivering any strikes. The victim ordered him to leave and he grabbed her billfold, a bottle of liquor and left. The victim then gathered her stuff and was going to leave to go over to her parents' house at 116 N Norman. As she locked her apartment door while standing in the apartment hallway foyer, the offender came up from behind, spun her around, and grabbed her by the throat with one hand and began strangling her. The victim dialed 911 at 0557 hours according to dispatch on her cell phone as he was strangling her. The offender stated as he was choking her that he was going to kill her before the cops could get there. The 911 call was disconnected and the offender had strangled the victim into unconsciousness. The offender fled the scene leaving the victim unconscious on the hallway floor. The victim woke up to her cell phone ringing. The call was dispatch calling back on the 911 disconnect. The victim, very disoriented and confused at what had just happened, refused AMR and stated to dispatch that everything was okay and the assailant had left. The victim then gathered her billfold that was returned with nothing missing, but discovered her house key missing from her keychain that was found at the base of the apartment stairwell. The victim drove herself to her parents at 116 N Norman for sanctuary. There were no visible signs of injury on the victim at this time to be photographed and I notified Detective J. Harris of the situation. Harris stated to generate the report and list him as the assigned investigator. The victims parents are going to assist the victim in getting her apartment locks changed before returning. End
