Reporter called 911 this morning reporting the listed vehicle was parked in the driveway behind his house and when he checked the vehicle, he saw a pistol in the driver's side door pocket. Upon my arrival I found the car was unlocked so I removed the pistol from the car, cleared it and secured it in my vehicle. I ran the pistol for stolen; it came back as not stolen. I then contacted the IO who owns the car and asked her if she knew why her car was parked at this location, she said she assumed her car was still parked in her driveway and had no idea it was gone. I informed her the ignition had not been broken so whoever parked it here must have had keys, she said there were several people at her house and one of them must have driven it last night without her knowledge. I asked her if she wanted to report it stolen, she said no and asked if she could pick it up later. The reporter had no problem with that, so the car was left on scene. I then asked the IO about the gun, she seemed very shocked that there was a gun in the car and said she had no idea whose it was or why it would be there. I informed her I would take the gun and place it into property at HQ. I then left the scene, took the gun to HQ and placed it into a property locker. | | PAULSON, H. M. |
