Reported: 05/19/2017.  Cameron Ellis called 9-1-1 because SHAWN ANGLE (Offender) attempted to assault him, this morning. I arrived and observed ANGLE prone on the floor of his apartment, immediately inside the front door. Ellis advised ANGLE entered the living room where he was seated and attempted to batter him. Ellis stated that for ANGLE to outburst like that is not normal.  ANGLE is a high-functioning mental health consumer, and Ellis was his caretaker, this morning. I directed ANGLE off the floor and to sit on the couch in the living room. ANGLE complied. Having experience with ANGLE once before, when I filed an immediate detention affidavit for him at St. Mary's (now St. Vincent's) Hospital. Without benefit of the Miranda Warning, I asked ANGLE why he attempted to attack Ellis, this morning. ANGLE replied that he hates Ellis, but he did not articulate a reason why he hates Ellis. Then, ANGLE stood up with his fists clenched & raised, and he stepped toward me. I ordered ANGLE to stop and return to his seat.  I continued to speak with ANGLE while Ellis called his supervisor. I attempted to ascertain if ANGLE felt ill, today, but determined that he felt fine, physically. ANGLE was not due for a blood sugar test or his daily/morning medications until 0800 hours. While speaking with Ellis, ANGLE, again, stood with fists clenched & raised and stepped toward me. I yelled for ANGLE to stop & return to the couch, and he complied. I handcuffed ANGLE, consulted Ellis for a few more minutes, then decided to not transport him to a medical facility, but to incarcerate him, instead.  ANGLE in custody at VCCC.		DONAHUE, K. M.

They were wanting to get her medical treatment before she left the home. Laura takes medication for high blood pressure and arthritis. While on scene Laura made no sense. Laura wanted to take two bags with her to the hospital. I checked the bags for everyone's safety prior to placing them into the ambulance. In an outside pocket I could see a clear container with a green leafy substance in it. Next to it was a grinder with a green leafy substance in it. In the main compartment of the bag was a silver colored container that also had a green leafy substance in it. Officer Rasche tested the green leafy substance which tested positive for THC. From our experience on the street it had the odor of what is known as K2. AMR advised her blood pressure and heart rate was very high which is consistent with K2 use. Laura actions were also consistent with someone who has used K2. We believe the substance to be a mixture of marijuana and K2. AMR transported Laura to Deaconess.
