LW 1725900 Theft All Other < $750	northbound on the east side of Oakley St, just south of Tennessee St. Butler was unable to remove the keys from the ignition because the shifter was stuck in neutral. Butler left the vehicle parked at this location and she began walking home. Butler returned several days later to check on the vehicle and the vehicle was in the same place that she had left it. Approximately one week after she checked on the vehicle she discovered that the vehicle was gone. Butler had difficulty remembering the date that she parked the vehicle and when she returned to find it missing. I located a picture on Butler's cellphone of her inside of the vehicle on November 9, 2017, at approximately 0900. Butler remembered that she was wearing the same shirt on her walk home as she was wearing in this picture. Butler's estranged husband, Brian Butler is also listed as an owner of the vehicle. Carolyn Butler stated that the reason for the delay in reporting the vehicle stolen is that she thought her estranged husband may have been in possession of the vehicle. I spoke to Brian Butler today, and he does not have possession of the vehicle and he does not know where it may be. No one else is authorized to be in possession of the vehicle.	Gordon, Jane A. (W F, 65) VICTIM of Theft All Other < $750 (C), at 3701 Washington Ave, Evansville, IN, on 11/19/2017, 17:50.
