Reported: 01/14/2018. Officers were dispatched to 812 Oakley St. in reference to a fight. When we arrived we heard yelling from inside the house coming from both the victim and suspect. The victim told me that her boyfriend (suspect) had lost his phone and billfold and was mad and thought she had it. The victim told me that the suspect grabbed her jacket and started going through her pockets looking for the lost items. The victim had a bruised left eye that she told me at first had happened two days ago. The victim had changed her story a couple times while I was asking her what had happened. I asked the suspect what had happened and he told me the same story that he had lost phone and his billfold and was arguing with the victim about having his items. The suspect told me that he and the victim both had did some minor pushing each other but that was all that happened. The suspect also told me that the victim had gotten the black eye a couple days ago due to her getting into a fight with two females at the liquor store. There were several subjects inside the home when this all had happened, and no one saw the suspect strike the victim. The victim told me from the start that she did not want to pursue charges against the suspect. Crime scene was called for pictures of the victims eye and she was given a case number and was told how to have the charges filed against him		UNDERWOOD, B.

She advised they have been living together like a married couple for 2 years. Risse stated today they were home playing video games and she asked the suspect about a girl he had been chatting with online. Risse advised the suspect became upset and began yelling. The suspect then grabbed a glass mason jar and threw it against the wall causing glass to break all over the floor. The suspect then grabbed Risse and threw up on against wall and began yelling at her. After a brief struggle Risse was able to run into the bedroom and attempted to retrieve her cell phone to call for help. The suspect grabbed her phone and wrestled it away from her preventing her from calling 911. Risse then ran out the house and began walking down the street to get away but the suspect followed behind her. Knowing the suspect still had her phone she again asked for it, and he threw it in the snow and fled the scene. Risse then retrieved her phone and called authorities. While on scene officers noticed glass all over the living room floor. Officers also noticed Risse had several red marks on her face and when questioned about it she stated it's possible he hit me in the face it just happened so fast.
