LW 1812823	Intimidation Threat [am]	finger. Gordon stated he was supposed to pick up Ford from jail today, but had over slept. Gordon stated Ford did not live at the residence. Gordon stated he lived there with his mother. Gordon stated he and Ford had broken up 4 to 5 months ago. Gordon stated Ford came into his room while he was sleeping and attacked him. Gordon stated his mother came in and told Ford to leave and Ford refused. Gordon stated he was just trying to protect himself from Ford attacking him. Gordon stated he did not hit Ford. Gordon stated his mother grabbed Ford and was pushing her out the door when Ford and his mother began physically fighting. Gordon stated Ford entered his house without permission and uninvited. We went back to speak to Ford. Ford admitted to not living at the residence. Ford stated the door was unlocked and she entered the house without knocking. I explained to Ford that she can not enter someone elses house without knocking and uninvited and that a homeowner may use force to remove a person from their residence. Ford insisted she did nothing wrong. Ford then stated someone named "Andrea" saw her come in and said hi to her. I went to the door and knocked to try to find a witness to what had happened. When I knocked on the door, it opened. I announced myself as police and waited at the open door for a response. When I did not hear any, I went inside and continued to announce myself as police. I saw no one inside the house so I left and closed the door. I told Ford no one was inside the house and there is no witness to verify either version of events. Ford continued to argue with us and that she was in the right. Ford stated she would not leave without her keys or cats. I again explained to Ford she could not be at this house uninvited. Sloat went in with Gordon to look for the keys and cats. The keys could not be found but a gray cat was located. Ford went with AMR to St Vincents. Animal Control was called for the gray cat and kittens. I warned Gordon that no damage should happen to Ford's car while it is parked in front of his residence and until Ford can get another key and retrieve it.	JEWELL, B. E.

No victims listed. Both involved parties called 911. The first caller, Linda, told dispatch a white SUV hit her but she did not need an ambulance. I arrived and Linda was sitting in the grass next to the alley. She said she was hit by the side mirror. I asked where at and she pointed to her left arm. There was no visible marking, redness, or bruising at the time of the report. She pointed to the garage and said the vehicle was in it. At that time, the other involved party came out and said she would be in the garage when I was done talking to Linda. Brenda, the other involved party, said Linda does not like her because she turned her neighbors in for selling narcotics. Brenda said Linda was by the alley and when she drove past her she fell to the ground and started yelling she was going to jail and she was going to own her house. Brenda said she parked in the garage and closed the door. Linda stood outside the door yelling so Brenda called 911. I looked at the mirror. It had no marking on it and did not appear to have been moved. I asked Linda show me where she was hit again. There was still no mark. I asked her again to tell me again what happened. She said when the vehicle drove past she felt it and jumped out of the way and fell on the ground. I asked if it hit her and she said no she just felt it and jumped out of the way. She also said she was not hurt several times. I gave her a case number and told her I would do an incident report. She said she is not hurting but if she does later and goes to the hospital what does she need to do. I told her to go talk to the prosecutor. She then went home.		BROWN, D. R.
