She said since the beginning of the year, the offender has been progressively more controlling of where she goes and what she does. He has threatened her on more than on occasion, but she has not done a report because he convinces her it is her fault. She said one instance in the past, he pointed a handgun at her head and she was able to talk him down. Tonight, he told her he was going to "bash her face in" and he was going to kill himself. She said she is in fear because of the firearms in the home. While speaking with the victim, the offender sent messages to the victim that he was in the area and aware officers were there.
