Case #	Description	(A)ttempted, (C)ompleted, (F)elony, (M)isdemeanor	Officer
[bm]	Reported: 02/20/2019. Upon arriving I could hear and see the occupants arguing in the back of the apartment. The resident V/OF-C.C. came to the door and had me come into the apartment. V/OF-J.M. was sitting at the kitchen table. C.C. told me that she wanted J.M. out of her apartment. I asked if he was on the lease or any of the bills. She advised that he wasn't and he acknowledged that this was true. While trying to deal with the situation the couple continued to argue over the problems of the day, accusing each other of various things. I told J.M. that he needed to gather some belongings and leave since he has no contractual interest in the property. He was told that he could set up a time that was good for both of them and get the remainder of his belongings and call for police to standby. J.M. said that C.C. had threatened to murder him. I told him that I would do a report and he could go to the prosecutor's office to pursue charges. J.M. was given the case number and advised to go ahead and leave and not return until they agreed on a time to do a standby with police. After J.M. left C.C. advised me that she had let J.M. move in a few months ago because she felt sorry for him. This was only supposed to be for a few days and after a couple weeks she told him that he needed to leave but he refused. Today they were arguing about him needing to leave. J.M. broke some of C.C. knickknacks that were in the bedroom, in an attempt to upset her. At one point J.M. had taken C.C. phone from her and placed it in his back pocket. When she tried to retrieve her phone he pushed her arm away and her finger got bent back and she thought it might be broken.

	Hyundai Santa Fe, and left South toward Virginia St. She said the vehicle was parked in front of the store with her 15 year old son in the passenger seat, waiting for her to finish shopping. Her son said the suspect opened the driver's side door to the vehicle before he noticed someone was inside it. He apologized to the juvenile, closed the door and walked away. The juvenile said he locked the car doors after that, but a minute or so later, the suspect returned to the vehicle and knocked on the window of the driver's door. The juvenile could not roll that window down from his side of the car, so he unlocked the doors. That's when the suspect opened the driver's door again. This time he had his hand concealed in his coat pocket and told the juvenile, "Get the fuck out, I have a gun." The juvenile immediately exited the vehicle from the passenger side, and ran into Shoe Carnival where he notified his mother. An officer in the area located the stolen vehicle traveling West on the Lloyd. He followed it to Weinbach, where it pulled into the Family Dollar parking lot. The driver did not exit the vehicle, and quickly pulled back onto Weinbach. At that point, the vehicle began to flee from the officer, who activated his emergency lights and sirens. The vehicle pursuit that ensued went North on 41 past Saint George, and then came back South on 41 to Columbia. As the stolen vehicle turned West on Columbia from 41, it collided with an unmarked police unit. The stolen vehicle continued West on Columbia, and eventually the suspect exited the vehicle going the wrong way on Governor at Delaware. The stolen vehicle was not put in park though, and after the suspect got out, it continued North until it struck a parked car. The suspect laid down on the ground after exiting the vehicle, and was taken into custody. No firearm was located in the stolen car or on the suspect. It was towed to Tri State at the owner's request.
