Case #	Description	(A)ttempted, (C)ompleted, (F)elony, (M)isdemeanor	Officer
	Street. Officers checked with Vanderburgh County Central Dispatch and they reported Brian Kessler was not in the database. Officers asked Brian where he was from and he reported he was from Evansville. Officers checked the database themselves and also confirmed there was nothing within their database and when they checked for his Indiana BMV status, it returned with nothing. Officers believed Brian was lying to them about his identity. Officers inquired with Brian about his tattoos and learned he had a tattoo of "Taz", a cartoon tasmanian devil, on his left shoulder. An additional officer arrived on scene to assist and was asked to inquire with EPD Records about Brian's tattoo in an attempt to learn his identity. A neighbor, identified as a witness, wanted to speak with officers about what he had observed. He reported the male, Brian, had stopped, approached the child, and spoke with her for some time without a parent around. He thought the encounter was odd and called 9-1-1. He stated Brian appeared to have taken photos of the child with his cellular phone. Officers returned and spoke with Brian as others attempted to learn his identity. Officers asked Brian if they could take a look at his cellular phone, which they previously observed in one of his short's pockets, to ensure he had not taken photographs of the little girl. His demeanor changed and he stated he would have nude photographs and / or videos on his phone of other children. He continued to state the photographs were from legal websites and were family appropriate. Officers asked if the photographs showed anything and he repeated they were nude, showing everything. Officers inquired about their ages and he reported the children were young. Officers clarified and asked if they were approximately the same age of the child he had been speaking with, which he acknowledged. Officers detained Brian in handcuffs and took custody of his cellular phone for evidentiary purposes. Moments later, officers learned Brian's identity from his tattoo and scars as Brian Williamson. Officers checked Brian Williamson's photograph in their database and confirmed. Brian was identified as a sexual predator against children and had to register for life. Officers spoke with the child's parents, both identified as involved others. They reported their daughter had been outside for approximately 20 minutes and was allowed to do so as long as she remained within their fenced yard. Officers requested the mother to speak with her daughter about what was said to her and if Brian had touched her in any way. She spoke with her daughter and reported Brian had been helping her setup applications on her phone, along with a game "Pokemon Go". She reported Brian had not touched her. She reported seeing Brian a couple of weeks ago as she rode her bike, he reportedly walked by her numerous times to say "Hi". This evening, Brian approached from the west on W Louisiana Street and asked the little girl if she liked Pokemon before stopping to speak with her.
