Reported: 07/26/2019. Officers were dispatched to 1103 Baker Avenue in reference to a check welfare. The reporter advised dispatch that they could hear a female screaming from the back of the residence near or coming from the shed. Officers arrived and located a white male screaming near the back of the residence. The white male was placed into handcuffs and continued to scream as he was told repeatedly to stop screaming, as he was causing a disturbance. The male said that he was unsure if anyone was inside the shed but he knew that there was a dog inside the shed. Officers asked several times loudly for anyone inside the shed to come to the door. Nobody said anything and nobody approached the door. Officers opened the shed and located the large dog and another white male inside the shed sitting in a folding chair near the rear of the shed. Officers asked the male to stand up and walk toward the officer at the front door of the shed. The male was very argumentative as he made his way to the door. Officers attempted to place handcuffs on the male from the shed and the male turned toward the officer and drew his hands away. Force was used on the resisting male to effectively apply the handcuffs. While the two males were lying on their stomachs in handcuffs, the dog from the shed bit an officer on the leg. With the door of the shed open Officers were able to locate items used for narcotics in plain view. While the two males were on the ground outside the shed, they continued to shout loudly and cause a disturbance among the neighboring homes. They were asked several times to stop shouting and they continued. The narcotics evidence was collected and the two males involved were transported to the Vanderburgh County Confinement Center. Once at the Confinement Center, 1 glass smoking pipe with residue was field tested and resulted in a positive reading for methamphetamine. The silver bag with a green leafy substance was field tested and resulted in a positive reading of synthetic cannabinoids. The bag of green leafy substance was weighed on a jail provided scale and registered at a weight of 22.5 grams. The narcotics evidence was dropped in the narcotics locker at the Confinement Center.	HALLMARK, B. G.
