	passenger seat. His eyes were open, but he did not appear responsive. Due to the likelihood of the suspect having a handgun on his person or nearby, officers entered the vehicle to control the passenger and detain him. As officers entered the vehicle, the suspect suddenly regained consciousness and began to pull away. Officers quickly controlled him and he was taken into custody without incident. He was patted down, but no weapons were located on his person. However, a green leafy substance was located in his coat pocket. He appeared confused, uneasy on his feet and the odor of marijuana was detected coming from the vehicle. Officers requested an ambulance due to the suspect's condition. Due to marijuana being smelled coming from the vehicle, officers conducted a search of the vehicle and its contents, but no handguns were located. A black backpack was located laying outside of the vehicle, it had some weight to it and was searched. Inside of the bag was a gaming console controller and a dinner plate, but no handgun. Laying immediately next to the suspect in the vehicle was $300 U.S. currency in $20 bill denominations. Officers spoke with the caller, identified as the victim and his friend, identified as the witness. They stated they were attempting to purchase a tan / flat dark earth color Glock handgun from the suspect for $300, but wanted to see photographs of the handgun before agreeing to the deal. The suspect sent them two Snapchat videos of him playing with the handgun(s). Once they met the suspect, he handed them the backpack in exchange for the money and left. The backpack did not contain the handgun, so they followed the suspect vehicle until it stopped on the parking lot of Planet Fitness. The victim showed the Snapchat videos to the officers, the videos were dated a few hours old. Both the suspect and his cousin, the involved other, were juveniles. Their fathers arrived on scene and officers spoke with them. Both juveniles and their fathers were advised of their rights, they agreed to speak with officers after having time to discuss the situation without an officer present. The involved other was seated in the back of a squad car and reported he was driving and believed his cousin, the suspect, was selling a handgun to the victim and his friend, the witness. He reported he had not seen the gun today, but believed it was in the backpack the suspect had handed to the victim. He reported the suspect got into the car with the money and told him to drive away. He stated he did so, but was being followed by the victim's vehicle. He reported the suspect finally told him he had not really sold him the handgun. He reported the suspect began having a seizure moments later, so he stopped his vehicle and called 9-1-1. The suspect was seated in an ambulance and reported the plot was to sell the victim a handgun in exchange for $300, but there was never any intention to actually sell him a handgun. He reported he took the victim's money and told his cousin, the involved other, to drive away. He stated his cousin had no idea what his actual intent was. He acknowledged he placed the gaming console controller, along with the dinner plate, in the backpack to give the bag weight in order to deceive the victim there was handgun inside. He also admitted he smoked marijuana, but had not on today's date. The suspect stated the Snapchat videos were from earlier in the afternoon and the handgun(s) belonged to a friend, but would not disclose the name of his friend.
