Reported: 09/09/2020. Officers were dispatched to the above address in reference to a Suspicious Circumstance run. On scene, I spoke to the victim, later identified as A. Collins. Collins stated when she arrived home this evening around 1930 hours, the suspect, later identified as T. Lockyear, was inside the house. Collins told me that Lockyear is her boyfriend and had been living here with her. Collins also advised that she had a Protective Order against Lockyear. When asked where Lockyear was staying now, she told me his address was "here". Collins continued that at approximately 0100 hours, she was in her bedroom when Lockyear tried to force his way inside. Collins stated she reached her medic alert device and was able to be connected to 9-1-1. Collins stated when Lockyear heard she was talking to 9-1-1, he grabbed her purse off the bed and fled out the front of the house. Collins stated her purse contained approximately $800.00 in cash, her driver license, and various other items. I gave Collins a case # and told her the process for following up with the prosecutor's office. I checked for the protective order through NCIC and received a hit that showed Collins did have a PO against Lockyear. However, when I contacted records to verify that the order had been served, records advised that the PO had been dropped according to the court record. We were able to determine that the NCIC hit was due to the cause # being entered incorrectly and therefore not removed.	CONDIFF, M. V.
