Reported: 09/23/2020. I, Officer S. P. Smith was dispatched to Evansville Regional Airport at 7801 Bussing Dr for a disorderly conduct. Officers J. Duff and N. Pitt were also dispatched to this location. The initial reporter called dispatch stating that he was trying to return a rental car and the female he was with, later identified as Randi Smith, was refusing to give him the keys so he could return it. The reporter had rented the vehicle and not R. Smith. Dispatch advised that there was a female screaming in the background and that airport security was also enroute. When they arrived, they advised dispatch that R. Smith was physically threatening the reporter and was being defiant and not cooperating with them. When I arrived I could hear R. Smith yelling and screaming even before I pulled into the rental return parking lot. I exited my patrol car and went to speak with R. Smith. She was still yelling at the reporter. I asked R. Smith what was going on but she continued to argue with the reporter and started to walk away from me. I asked her again what was going on and she said that I need to talk to the reporter. She started to yell at the reporter again while reaching inside the open door of a passenger car. I could see she was attempting to reach into a handbag in the back seat. I ordered R. Smith to stop yelling and to come here but she continued to reach. I grabbed her shirt sleeve and she flung her left arm away from me, clinched her fists, and attempted to turn around on me. I was able to grab R. Smith by the left arm and pull her away from the rear door way of the vehicle. R. Smith was yelling and screaming and had pulled her arms in front of her and stiffened them in an attempt to keep me from gaining control of them. She was trashing back towards me and I was able to get out over the radio that R. Smith was fighting me. I continued to order R. Smith to give me her hands but R. Smith continued to yell, scream, thrash around, and stiffen her arms. I was able to hold her against the rear side of the vehicle and pull her stiffened left arm behind her back. Officers J. Duff and N. Pitt arrived on scene and with the assistance of Officer N. Pitt I was able to pull R. Smith`s right arm behind her back and place her into handcuffs. She was then transported by transport wagon to VCCC and | | SMITH, S. P. |

| LW 2017417 Theft : A : M | officers were pointed to the north and stated that a female subject involved walked toward Sam`s Club and tossed something into some bushes near by. Officer Duff stopped the subject and identified her as Chelsea Bolin. Bolin was advised of her Miranda Rights and agreed to talk with officers. Bolin stated that she threw her meth pipe in the bushes before officers arrived because she did not want to get in trouble for it. Officer Duff located a glass pipe with a white and brown burnt residue inside of it. The pipe was consistent with an instrument that is used to ingest a controlled substance into a person`s body. Officer Winn asked Bolin what she used the pipe for and she stated that she smokes meth out of it and last used meth a day ago. Bolin was given a citation for possession of paraphernalia and given a date to appear in court at a later date. Bolin had a prior conviction for possession of paraphernalia on 03-19-20 (82D06-2002-CM-000855). Bolin`s new paraphernalia charge was enhanced to an A misdemeanor due to her prior conviction. The glass pipe was entered into evidence. | Jones, Madison Kylie (W F, 18) VICTIM of Theft : A : M (C), at 423 Jefferson Ave, Evansville, IN, between 17:14, 09/22/2020 and 06:30, 09/23/2020.
