LW 2019964 Incident Rpt Misc	Incident Rpt Misc (C), at 920 N Elliot St, Evansville, IN, on 11/03/2020, 13:20. Reported: 11/03/2020. No victims listed. RP called to report a scam after she had been applying for loans online. RP stated that a company had reached out to her by phone and had all of her information and at that time they requested her user name and password to her bank account which she gave after they said they need the information to deposit a check into her account. After the person recieved the information they told report that they would contact her tomorrow with instructions on what she would need to do in order for them to complete the transaction. RP became suspicious and went to her bank 5/3 and they told her it was a scam and they closed her account. I asked the RP if she was out any money at this time and she stated she was not. After RP stated she was not out any money she then said the bank told her that her husband owed $500,000, but she said they would not give her any type of documentation. I ask report if they had $500,000 in their account that someone could have stolen and she stated they did not. I told the RP that i do not think the bank would allow someone to withdraw that much from an account that did not have that in it or at least something close. I explained to the RP I would make this an incident report since she was telling me they did not receive any money from her and that if she found that there was a monetary loss to call us back and we would make a fraud report at that time. I also instructed her to get any documentation available from the bank if she was found to have a monetary loss.		VALADEZ, D. K.
