When he arrived back at his residence, he found his basement rear door's window completely busted out. The victim stated the only thing disturbed inside was his closet. CSU responded and took pictures of the point of entry and the disturbed property in the closet. The closet was not destroyed, but the clothes that were in the closet were scattered across the ground in the closet. A large rock was found just inside the rear basement door, and it was most likely used to bust the window. The victim stated his he and the offender broke up three weeks ago, the offender does not have any property in his house, and the offender does not live there. The victim was given a case number for the report and informed how to follow up with the   |   | HYNEMAN, J. M. |
