LW 2225392	Criminal Trespass	was outside in a kennel. Upon my arrival, there was one black and white lab/Australian Sheperd named Luna and one German Shepard named Sarge outside. Luna was on a lead and had access to a small plastic dog house that did not allow her much room. There was hay on the ground but the snow and window could easily blow in on her. Her water bowl was full of snow and there was no food in sight. Sarge was in a much larger kennel that allowed him to move freely. There was tarp covering two sides completely. A tarp covered half of the back. Unfortunately, the front door was completely exposed allowing the wind and snow to be blown in. The water in Sarge's bowl was frozen and there was no food in sight. I reached the owner over the phone. She agreed to come back to let the dogs inside. I explained the circumstance and she agreed. She was cited for the City Ordinance.	HASTINGS, M. J.

Reported: 12/22/2022. On the listed date, officers were dispatched to the United Caring Shelter for a female that was acting erratic and being aggressive to other residents and staff. Upon arrival, officers located the consumer(victim) outside the building wrapped up in a blanket. Officer attempted to talk with the consumer and found that she was not very forthcoming with information. Officers observed that she was not dressed for the weather at the time. The consumer provided a phone and spoke to a subject who the consumer had been staying with. This unknown individual stated the consumer had been at her residence three days ago and began to act as if she was on a narcotic. This subject advised that he has known the consumer for a while and is not aware of any narcotic abuse. Due to all the consumer's behavior and her actions at the shelter, officers feel that she is a danger to herself and others as well as she is not dressed for the dramatic weather coming into the area. Officers called for the transport wagon in order to take the consumer to Deaconess-Midtown for evaluation and treatment. CIT report was completed.	HASTINGS, M. J.
