Perrin said he began defending his sister and told "Bosse" (Johnson Jr - one of the residents here) that he better "take care of" the offender because he didn`t want to get in trouble for battering the offender. Perrin said the offender threatened to hit him with brass knuckles, but Perrin told the offender he didn`t believe him. Perrin said about an hour elapsed, at which point Johnson left. Perrin said once Johnson left, the offender took the brass knuckles and punched him at least twice in the head with them. One of the hits was to the upper, right cheek and the other was more to the top of the head. Perrin said after he was struck on the top of the head, he lost consciousness. Perrin said he woke up an unknown amount of time later, saw that the offender was no longer at the residence, and went back to sleep. Perrin said he woke up again at about 1400 or 1500 and saw that the offender was now sleeping at the residence, so he left. I observed an abrasion that was partially healed, redness, and swelling to Perrin`s right cheek. Perrin`s right ear was also red and swollen. On the top of Perrin`s head, I observed a line of dried blood in his hair where he said he had been struck. CSU Detective Hagensieker photographed Perrin`s injuries. Perrin was given a case number.	DUTSCHKE, K. W.
