Reported: 05/21/2023. Officers were dispatched in reference to a domestic violence in progress. Dispatch advised that the reporter was a passerby who stated that there was a female screaming for help out of a window. Dispatch advised that the reporter stated the female was yelling at a male subject to get out of the house and then the male subject closed the window. The female then went downstairs and opened up the front door continuing to yell for help. Officers arrived and everything at the address was quiet. Officers located a female inside the apartment with three juvenile children. The female stated that the offender was no longer on scene but that he was in a physical altercation with her. The victim stated that the male subject and her have been in a romantic relationship for approximately eight months. She said that the male subject lives with her at the address with her three children. The victim stated that her boyfriend became irate with her following an argument. He then grabbed her out of bed by her hair and punched her in the face two times with a closed fist. At this time she opened the bedroom window and began yelling for help. When things settled down she went downstairs to sit by her children hoping that he would not try to harm her in their presence. He was still irate and threw a glass pickle jar at the victim. It did not hit her but landed near her in her direction. The offender picked up a knife and began walking in the victim's direction but decided to put the knife down. The offender grabbed the victim around the throat and squeezed to the point that the victim could no longer breath. The children were in the same room as this was happening. While choking the victim the offender was telling her that he was going to kill her.		ROSENTHAL, J. B.
