	I was dispatched to this address in reference a residential burglary report. The victim stated the offender has been barred from this address. RMS showed the offender is barred. The offender is the estranged spouse to the victims daughter, who resides here as well. The daughter had a conversation with the offender earlier today regarding the offenders cat he was looking for. The daughter told the offender that she had located his cat and they would make arrangements for him to get the cat, but did not tell him to come over. This evening, the offender showed up unannounced. He entered the property from the rear and climbed up on the lower doorway roof. This gave him access to the upstairs bedroom window. The offender entered the residence through the bedroom window. The daughter was in the process of going outside as he was entering the residence and was out in the back yard after he had made entry. The offender went downstairs and was seen by the victim in the kitchen. They exchanged words and she told him he was not suppose to be here. The offender exited residence through the back door, and encountered the daughter. They exchanged words and he left toward the alley. I was unable to locate the offender at time of report.
