LW 2410825 Incident Rpt Misc	Incident Rpt Misc (C), at 3430 Taylor Ave, Evansville, IN, on 06/08/2024, 22:43. Reported: 06/08/2024. No victims listed. Officers were dispatched to the neighborhood Walmart on Taylor Ave in reference to an assault in progress. On scene, it was discovered that there was an altercation between Loney and a group of others, which ended up involving Cabell. The altercation began when Loney and Cabell were attempting to enter the store and a group of males were hollering at her, commenting on her butt. Loney took exception to this a confronted the males and verbally asked them to stop. This resulted in a female, the driver of the vehicle the group was in, exiting the vehicle before she struck Loney with an open hand then grabbing her hair and puller her to the ground. Loney said this began a struggle between her and the female on the ground. Loney said it was at this time that she dropped her cell phone, keys, and wallet. Loney said the female was mixed race with curly brown hair and green eyes, wearing a green hoodie and white shoes. While the altercation between Loney and the female was taking place, one of the males in the group struck Cabell in the face. Cabell described the male as a black male who had gold teeth and a moon tattoo on his forehead, wearing a black shirt, tan pants, black shoes and a black doo rag. Loney was able to separate herself from the female and this was when she realized her wallet was missing. She asked the group to give it back to her and they refused. The male who struck Cabell was said to have left on foot to the southeast. The female and the rest of the group was said to have gotten into the vehicle and exited the parking lot toward Vann Ave after circling the lot several times. An AIU detective arrived on scene to speak with Loney and Cabell. The detective advised that the involved parties did not wish to press charges or even document		AKER, B. W.
