The caller told dispatch that someone stole his belongings and swapped them out with cheaper versions. He said someone stole his television and replaced it with a smaller one. They did the same with his furniture. It was someone that has access to his apartment. I arrived and made contact with the victim, identified as Cedric Sellers. He stated his ex wife, identified as Lucianna, used her key to enter his apartment and switch his items with cheaper versions of the same item. She was assisted by their 11 year old juvenile son. I asked why she would do that and he believes it was to make money off of his stuff. Cedric went into further detail and said that he bought a 75 inch television from Wal-Mart and now it is roughly 55 inches. I asked if I could go to his apartment and see the property for myself. He agreed and we both went to his apartment. I asked Cedric to search for his receipt while I inspected his television. I found a serial number on the back of the television and looked it up at Wal-Mart.com. It returned to a 65 inch television. He told me he bought a 75 inch, but he was unable to find a receipt while I was there. Cedric had a sofa and loveseat that appeared normal size. I asked him how he could tell the furniture was different. He said because the full length couch came with 3 pillows and there were only 2 accounted for.		FRAZIER, R. T.

	I, Officer Frazier, was dispatched to the listed address for a check welfare. The caller told dispatch that someone broke in Saturday when he was out of town. Said they stole drills and stock paperwork.
	I arrived and made contact with Allen Garst. He stated that an unknown offender(s) entered his home and stole several of his items. I asked him what was stolen and he said a drill and stock market statements. The statements have the amount of money in his account, but the person that took them would not have access to that money. I asked Allen how they entered his home. He stated he has special locks that were shipped to him from New York. The offender would have to have some kind of jammer or frequency that would disable the locks. He believes that when he leaves his home someone raises the American Flag at Westwood Apartments to alert them that he is leaving so they can enter his home. The offender(s) steal just enough to keep him under his insurance deductible.
